

Your Alternate Delivery Address Solution

Our mission at Vyllage® is to provide homeowners globally with a turn-key business that helps to reduce losses of delivered purchases for businesses and communities while fostering goodwill throughout neighborhoods.

Securing Neighborhoods One Vyllage® at a Time

Your Neighborhood Watch for Packages

Vyllage®

There are approximately 6.5 billion packages (cnn.com/id/46071532) that are delivered in the United States annually from both FedEx and UPS with an estimated 23 million being stolen during that 52-week period. As more consumers become confident and comfortable in utilizing e-commerce for their purchases and transactions, this shipping option will continue to increase. Vyllage® is uniquely poised to create a niche in logistics. There are two (2) business markets/models Vyllage® will utilize to generate revenue.

Photographic Proof of Delivery When Your Package Arrives

1. Vyllagers® (Package Receivers):

Directed toward individuals interested in being the owner and operator of a Vyllage® In-Home Package Receiving Location. This turn-key business is ideally suited for individuals/families familiar with the gig economy, and who are home for the majority of their day. For the US, the minimum Vyllager® saturation level would be to have a Vyllage® location in each of the 43,000 ZIP codes nationally. Population density and ease of access to available services are external factors considered for market saturation

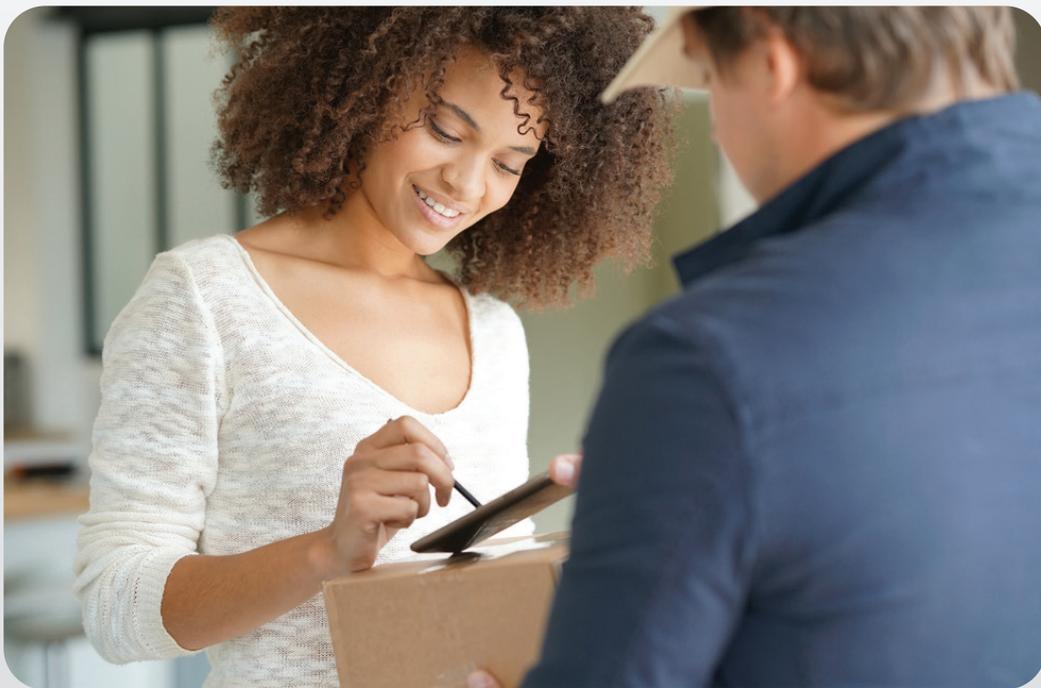

2. End Users (Customers):

Aimed primarily at consumers who shop online and/or utilize delivery services (floral, courier, prescription) who cannot afford to miss an important delivery or are concerned about having their packages and deliveries unsecured and possibly stolen.

What Makes Vyllage® Different

Vyllage® is the pioneer in leveraging homes as strategic delivery drop-off locations. With our first mover advantage, we will be able to define and benchmark this industry in terms of standards, compensation, pricing, and scalability. The simplicity of this business model, which is using existing infrastructure (homes) to assist in the distribution of goods, is easily replicated as we expand globally, when taking into account international legal considerations.

Vyllage® charges $3.99 to $5.99 for users to retrieve the full address of a Vyllage® location where they would like to have their package or delivery shipped. Each Vyllager® makes $3 to $5 per package and fixed income for service subscriptions. Vyllage® makes a flat 99 cents on every transaction.

Our Market and Industry

Vyllage® is a new and much-needed extension of the package delivery cycle and logistics space. Currently, delivery companies have seen an uptick year over year in the number of packages being processed. This is due to consumers increasingly pivoting from brick-and-mortar retail locations to the online marketplace to shop. In 2014 alone, the three largest delivery and logistics companies in the United States (UPS, USPS, and FedEx) delivered 30 million packages every day.

Currently, there are no direct competitors in this space. A close parallel would be UPS My Choice, which allows for customers to change their delivery location to another residential address, UPS Store or local business. FedEx also offers a similar service, but leverages convenience stores for package receiving and warehousing. Vyllage's® approach is different as we are exclusively using residential spaces as alternate delivery locations.
